ACCREDITATION OF PRIOR EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING (APEL)

INTRODUCTION

LEVEL UP TO AN UNDERGRADUATE OR POSTGRADUATE DEGREE WITH JUST YOUR WORK EXPERIENCE

Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning (APEL) provides an alternative pathway for adults who lack formal education to leverage their experience for career development. Through APEL, they can gain access to undergraduate or postgraduate programmes (APEL.A), or to shorten their study duration (APEL.C).

The systematic process identifies, documents, and assesses prior experiential learning from the aspects of knowledge, skills, and attitudes. This determines the extent to which an individual has achieved the desired learning outcomes, for their goal of accessing a programme of study and/or award of credits.

GLOSSARY

FORMAL LEARNING

Intentional learning or a programme of study delivered within an organised and structured context (pre-school, primary school, secondary school, technical college and university), which may lead to formal recognition or a recognised qualification.

INFORMAL LEARNING

Learning which takes place continuously through life and work experiences. It is often unintentional learning.

NON-FORMAL LEARNING

Learning that takes place alongside the mainstream systems of education and training. It may be assessed but does not normally lead to formal certification.

APTITUDE TEST

A formal examination that applicants are required to pass. The purpose is to assess the competence and readiness of the applicant to pursue tertiary education. Test areas include Numerical Literacy, Bahasa Malaysia Language, English Language, and General Knowledge, Critical Thinking and Digital Literacy.

CHALLENGE TEST

A proctored standard test to assess if you have achieved the module learning outcomes. It can be in the form of a written test, oral examination and/or performance assessment, depending on the nature and discipline of the module, as well as individual module learning outcome.

PORTFOLIO

A compilation document of previous experience including formal, informal and non-formal learning. The portfolio must be prepared in such a way that it allows you to demonstrate that the learning acquired is relevant.

ACCREDITATION OF PRIOR EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING FOR ACCESS (APEL.A)

APEL.A provides an opportunity for individuals with working experience but lack formal academic qualifications to pursue tertiary education at Higher Education Institutions. The APEL.A assessment, made up of the Aptitude Test and Portfolio Assessment components (refer to Glossary), will be on formal learning, informal learning and non-formal learning that has been attained over the years by the learner.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why should I apply for APEL.C?

- I. I want to obtain formal recognition for my prior learning.
- II. I possess the relevant skills, knowledge, and prior learning for a module that forms part of my programme.
- III. I can demonstrate evidence of my prior learning.

If you agree to at least one of these statements, contact us to find out how to put your experience to work!

Why should I apply for APEL.C at Taylor's University?

As one of the World's Top 1% Universities, Asia's Top 50, and Southeast Asia's No. 1 Private University (QS World University Rankings 2025 & Asia University Rankings 2024), Taylor's University is home to high-quality teaching expertise and a global industry network, which are vital for your professional development.

What is the age limit to apply for APEL.C?

There is no age requirement or limit to apply.

What is the maximum percentage of credit transfer allowed?

The maximum percentage of credit transfer is 30% of the minimum graduating credits. This percentage is in addition to the credit transfer provision, i.e. 30% based on the existing formal credit transfer policy.

Is APEL.C applicable for all modules?

According to the Guidelines to Good Practices: Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning for Credit Award issued by the Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA), APEL.C is applicable for all modules (including internship), except for final-year project-based modules and dissertations. At Taylor's, currently APEL.C is applicable for selected programme modules. View the list of modules on our website or get in touch with us for more info.

How is APEL.C assessed?

The assessment depends on the experiential learning accumulated by the student over the years. Methods of assessment that can be used are the Challenge Test or Portfolio Submission.

What is the difference between the Challenge Test and Portfolio Submission?

The Challenge Test is a proctored standard test to assess if you have achieved the module learning outcomes. It can be in the form of a written test, oral examination and/or performance assessment, depending on the nature and discipline of the module, as well as individual module learning outcome. The Portfolio Submission requires you to prepare a compilation document of previous experience including formal, informal and non-formal learning. The portfolio must be prepared in such a way that it allows you to demonstrate that the learning acquired is relevant.

When can I submit a formal application?

You may apply for APEL.C any time after you have enrolled as a Taylor's student and accepted the offer. However, you are advised to submit the APEL.C application before or during the first semester of study. Kindly take note that APEL.C application is open in January, April, July, and October. Please refer to the APEL Unit for the submission deadline.

Can I get any refund if my assessment is not successful?

No, all fees paid are non-refundable.

Will APEL.C credit transfer contribute to my CGPA?

No. The credit award (without any grades) will appear in the transcript of the student as 'CT(APEL)'.

Please refer to the detailed FAQ and APEL.C Student Guide on our website for more information.
